NIU EIGERlab CoWorking Space

Innovate. Accelerate. Commercialize.

Our region has long been one where inventors, builders, makers and entrepreneurs have commercialized ideas and flourished. Be it sewing machines, machine tools, fasteners... automotive, aerospace or digital solutions...the lifeblood of our region relies upon innovation and commercialization of ideas.

In tandem with the NIU EIGERlab Center for Product Development (C4PD), the NIU EIGERlab CoWorking Space provides like-minded digital and physical product based solopreneurs and innovation-driven existing businesses the opportunity to convene, learn, commercialize and grow new initiates. Our LaunchPad space is designed to enhance a culture of collaboration focused on innovation, entrepreneurship and commercialization. Our facilities each provide flexible spaces with a supportive atmosphere for ideation, implementation and accelerated growth of new products, technologies and businesses.

Whether you are looking for a convenient, centrally-located space to meet, you're interested in entrepreneurial programming or space to carry out day-to-day operations, NIU EIGERlab's CoWorking Space may be just the ticket.

Featuring:

- Common open work spaces for collaboration
- CoWorking memberships starting at $60 per month

"NIU EIGERlab's CoWorking Space is the ideal place to accelerate your emerging startup. People are always fascinated to hear how a business started out in a basement, but when you're the one who's in the basement, it's not so fascinating. The CoWorking Space gets you out of the basement setting and into a professional locale so you can feel like the professional you are. In close proximity to the I-90 interstate, located on the NIU-Rockford campus, the NIU EIGERlab CoWorking Space is the model meeting space for professionals and convenient for anyone traveling from outside the region. In addition to the great location, NIU EIGERlab offers a plethora of resources! With other like-minded entrepreneurs working in the space, it's amazing the conversations, connections and opportunities that ensue. The CoWorking space gives a person the opportunity to converse with others who are going through the same struggles and triumphs—all while learning from each other."
